To meet their obligations, enterprises have to have not only a comprehensive Health & Safety Program, but one that is consistently functional and operative. For this, the right Safety Culture has to be maintained through training, awareness and ingrained comprehension that 'safety doesn't cost money; it saves money'.

Good planning, i.e. foreseeing the risks, taking appropriate precautions, allowing time for preparations and the right resources prior to start of any work, reduces chances of 'loss of control' over its operations, hence prevents accidents.

ATH-Praezis stands with its customers to help with implementation of a dependable, functional Health & Safety Program. It assists in integration of safety practices into routine-work; provision of safety training', promotion of safety awareness; gathering of information; capture of 'lessons-learned'; auditing, data analysis; reporting and 'feedback' into Health & Safety Plans. Also, assistance can be provided for reporting to third parties and stakeholders.

In particular capture and analyses of 'near misses', 'dangerous occurrences', hazard recognition' etc. enables the enterprise to take better decisions, mitigate hazards, and solve issues. Ultimately enterprises are able to predict situations and pre-empt accidents.

ATH-Praezis helps with a cost-efficient 'critical-organization' behind the customer. It enables cost-efficient development of Health & Safety Plan, SOPs, documentation and other implementation and monitoring steps.

ATH-Praezis customers have Safety & Health as their core values and make it an integral part of 'the way they do business'. ATH-Praezis' involvement ensures that this is consistently delivered, according to a strategy, at economic cost, following best-in-class health and safety principles and procedures.

Health and Safety are not just statistics; these represent well-being of real people; ATH-Praezis' services help in customers' endeavor to achieve the lowest possible risk level.
